DEDICATION

Because she has guided us with kindly understanding, has steadied us by her poise of mind and spirit, and has made our troubles lighter by the sparkle of her wit, we dedicate the

to

MISS RUTH BARHAM

FOREWORD

If as you turn the pages this year, next year, or twenty years from now, you call to mind this person, that touchdown, that dance, that spring day you were caught dozing in class, that fire drill, that assembly, that long stretch in 202, that famous paddle, that day in the laboratory or in the annual office—if these and other memories are caught and held for you on its pages, then the Forester will have justified its existence.

Row One

1. Could it be the FORESTER that makes you smile, Miss Clark?
2. Mr. Keeling, wondering how many members of the track team got detention cards today.

Row Two

1. Miss Thatcher merrily returning from a bicycle ride.
2. Miss Segrist, one of Forest's loyal rooters.
3. Here is Mr. Boulton in a cage. (It is only the tennis court.) Note the derby!

Row Three

1. Mr. Parker — the twelfth man on the football team!
2. What happened to your bicycle, Mrs. Brown?
3. Mr. Ford and Miss Parker, the first ones out of the building that day.
4. You would think no one was absent by the smile on Miss Overbeck's face.

Row Four

1. Do they know their Spanish, Miss Wickham?
2. Miss Barham and Miss Wickham having a friendly little chat.

ADMINISTRATION

WYLIE A. PARKER

OUR PRINCIPAL

As principal of this school Wylie A. Parker's unusual personality has been instrumental in making Forest what it is today. Nothing is too trivial to receive his attention; no task is too large for him to undertake. Pupils and teachers think of him not as a superior, but as a friend. Mr. Parker's homely philosophies on life have been an inspiration to students throughout the years. Courteous, gentle, unselfish and sympathetic—it is small wonder that Wylie A. Parker is loved by all.

Mr. Parker began his higher education at the Summer Hill Select School in Smith County, Texas. From there he entered Baylor University, where he specialized in science, mathematics, and languages. Among the languages he studied were Latin, Greek, and German.

Having been graduated, Mr. Parker entered the newspaper field. He became managing editor of the Lindale Reporter, and later held this same position on the Plainview News.

Later Mr. Parker worked in a bank in Hillsboro. His great interest in banking is evident, for he has done much to improve the banking system at Forest.

During his spare time our principal finds relaxation in playing golf. He is an ardent football fan. The Forest Lions always count him their staunch supporter.

Probably the greatest interest Mr. Parker has is in the Texas Week Movement. Everyone is familiar with his part in originating Texas Week. At present he is writing a thesis on "The Historical Development of Texas Week." When this project is completed, it will probably be published in book form.

Mr. Parker has many definite philosophies of life. He believes that an individual should select several fundamental principles as "anchors" and adhere to them. As his "anchors" Mr. Parker selects five "I's": intelligence, information, initiative, imagination, and industry. Mr. Parker sometimes compares life to a basketball game. On his team he chooses Honesty and Truthfulness in the forward positions. As center, Dependability makes the best player. The Guards in this game are Industry and Determination. Clear Conscience is always the referee and God is the umpire. Mr. Parker believes that with this team the game of life can always be a successful and a worthwhile one.

Our principal offers a challenge to each student to overcome obstacles and make his life worthwhile. He has done this by making his habits and ways of living such that they will serve as an example to his students. He has never said or done anything which would serve to disillusion those who try to pattern themselves after him.

Mr. Parker is always ready to fight for a friend or a principle. He claims that his habit of punctuality, more than anything else, has been helpful in gaining success. When he started to college, he had forty dollars in his pocket. Through sheer strength of character he was able to secure an education for himself.

Isn't the portrait of such a man enough to inspire the youth of today?

WHAT IS YOUR LIFE WORTH?

What is your life worth? . . . This is a good inquiry for you to make into your life; in fact, it will be well for you to ask and answer this question each day of your life. Within yourself, you must remember, you have a world to discover, to explore, and to conquer. This is no easy undertaking, for just as the shifting sheen of the sky hides the stars from instant view, even so the true treasure of your life may be concealed from you at first. You should not forget that depth is the source and secret of life, and that strength and stability are attained by searching beneath the surface.

You must remember, also, that your real self is not on the outside, but within your heart; that any permanent progress must radiate from the center toward the circumference of your life. You are not rated by what is on you, or around you, or in your material possession; above position, or wealth, or culture, or genius, is the nobility of character.

There is divine meaning in your life, just as there is in the existence of everything else in creation—there are no alternates nor duplicates in God's planning. Even as the weights of no two pebbles on the beach are equal, it must be remembered that no two lives are of equal worth in the working out of individual principles and possibilities. No life can infringe upon the right-of-way of another in planning, supposing, and being, since the legitimate possessions of no two lives are to be found along precisely the same way. Each life is a monopoly in itself, for to each has been given the sole permission to exercise certain exclusive powers.

You will do well to ask yourself such questions as these: "What is the meaning of my life? Why have I been given an existence with endowments peculiar to myself? Where is my position and what is my mission in this life about me? Why am I given a lease on life to continue in quest of the things of this world?" The Author of your being has made a serious mistake if your life is not of importance and significance and meaning. His intention in giving you this lease on life is of vast concern to you and your associates, and the knowledge of His plan for you ought to be your daily and endless pursuit.

It takes more courage and requires a higher degree of heroism to master the science of self than it does to discover the wealth of the world about you. To view and review your life, to weigh it, to analyze it, to discover the weakness of it, to understand how it should be spent, to examine the cause of its failure, is a difficult task, but none the less a duty. Whoever you are, wherever you are, always be honest enough to become intimately acquainted with yourself. May it truly be said of you: "He has made as much out of himself as could be made of the stuff of which he is endowed, and no one can require more."

You are to live for the future—live so that your life will not bear its best fruit until after you have passed from the stage upon which you have lived and wrought. Strive not for present praise, but for future fruition. The fame of your name may soon perish, but what you are—the sum total of your beliefs, of your purposes, of your affections, of your tastes, and of your habits—these you can bequeath to men who will never know you personally.

I challenge you to make the earth richer by your having lived on it. I beg you to maintain an uncompromising enmity toward the false, and an invincible friendship toward the true. I implore you to cultivate a practical faith in the living God. Such a course as this for yourself will make your activity safer, your scholarship wiser, your life manlier, your joy brighter; and, when the veil is lifted, you will stand erect in the undimmed light of a glorified manhood or womanhood.

—WYLIE A. PARKER.

Miss Rachel Foote

OUR DEAN

No one exercises a more influential power over the students than our dean, Miss Foote. Her fairness and her firmness in guiding the student body merit respect from every Forester. Miss Foote has become a symbol of all that is cultured and fine. She has traveled extensively throughout the world, and her experiences have made her a highly interesting individual.

Miss Edna Rowe
Senior Counsellor

We shall always associate our senior year with "Miss Rowe." Through her great gift of understanding, she has guided us over many of the rough places. "To know her is to love her."

Mrs. Emma H. Brown
Assistant Senior Counsellor

Attacking her tasks with vigor, Mrs. Brown takes an active interest in whatever she does. Possessing a strong sense of justice and honesty, she has our affection and admiration.

A graduate of Forest herself, Mrs. Field upholds the tradition of Forest most capably. Her calmness, her efficiency, and her good humor make an ideal combination for this highly responsible position.

Mrs. Frances Field
Secretary

Busy checking absentees, giving tardy cards, timing fire drills, nevertheless Miss Overbeck can always find time for one of the most charming smiles we can recall.

CLASSES

Good-Bye to Forest High

Good-bye to you, dear Forest,
Your halls we now must leave,
But you'll be ever dearest
Within our memories.
Good-bye to friends and classmates,
To teachers and the rest,
We've long loved your endearing traits,
We'll always love them best.
Good-bye to daily quizzes,
And homework long past due,
And algebra, for this is
What we did so hate to do.
Good-bye to clubs and dances,
To football games we cheered,
Good-bye to school romances,
Exams that we so feared.
And farewell, too, to 202,
We won't forget the while
We spent long after school was through
Within your rank and file.
But now we leave this farewell wish
With you, Our Forest High:
Good luck, good cheer throughout the years,
And so to you—Good-bye!

—Elsie Rose Israel.

OUR LOYALTY SONG

We're loyal to you, Forest High,
The Green and the White, Forest High,
We'll back you to stand 'gainst the best in the land,
For we know you have sand, Forest High,
RAH! RAH!
Go after that ball, Forest High,
We're backing you all, Forest High,
Our team is our famed protector,
On boys! For we expect a
Victory from you, Forest High.

June, '38 Class History

Listen, my schoolmates, and you shall hear,
The history of the Seniors since their Freshman year.
It starts in September of '34,
As "400 strong" came through the door.
Those Freshmen, though timid as could be,
Didn't hesitate to swing into activity.
For our first attempt at dignity
We elected as president Louise Jaffee.
From I-B's to I-A's, now slightly less green,
We progressed under the leadership of Barnett Goodstein,
Gene, as II-B president, brought our class to a high score;
She did so well she was elected once "Moore."
Our II-A president was Cecil Redd;
At every Forest track meet he led.
With audacity we tried two Junior Proms in a year;
Their huge success proved we had nothing to fear.
The III-B president, now Mrs. S. R. May,
Then Virginia Henry left school to "love, honor, and obey."
Gene Moore, the belle of every crowd,
Was our III-A president, of whom we were proud.
A Student Council inaugurated this year,
Was greeted by the Seniors with pride and cheer.
When time came 'round on election days,
Clarence Eaton became our president, both as IV-B's and IV-A's.
Most popular students were Gene Moore and Roland Goss;
Without them the Seniors would be at a loss.
After having a swell time on Senior Day,
We concentrated on our Senior Play.
We wish to acknowledge the debt that we owe,
To lovely Miss Barham and stately Miss Rowe.
Now as we finish our high school education,
We look forward eagerly to our graduation.

—IDELLE GOODMAN.

January, '39 Class History

After struggling through three years in high school, we have finally reached our Senior Year. Although we did not like to spend our money for elevator tickets and be called "fish", we managed to get through our Freshman year with the help of J. L. Dyer, Margery Light, Louis Leon, and Jack Michaelson as officers, and Misses Christopher and Brewer as sponsors.

As Sophomores, we decided that C. L. Bryant, Maxine Polakoff, Merle Mann, and Bernice Cohn were the persons to lead us under the guidance of Miss Parker and Mr. Wiley.

The first part of our Junior year, led by William Beville, Mattie Lee Mueller, and Mr. Wiley, was a success. But the last part, under the leadership of David (Buddy) Weber, Rose Feldman, and Mr. Allison, was more than a success. It was during this time that we sponsored the Junior Prom, our first dance.

Now we can yell "fish" and sell elevator tickets, for we are Seniors. We have elected David Weber, Bernice Cohn, and Miss Gerlach to help us make this the greatest year of our school life.

BERNICE COHN.

The activities of the III-A Class this year have made the students and faculty look forward to a successful forthcoming senior class. One of our III-A pupils, Rose Kaufman, won third place in the traffic contest given in the fall. Our III-B Christmas Party was given at Sarah Tankus' house. It was very enjoyable.

The "Flavor of Texas," by Frank Dobie, was our contribution to the Texas Memorial Library.

For the first time in Forest Avenue High School the III-A's gave a Sport Dance, March 25, in the school gym. We are now making plans to give the best Junior Prom that Forest has ever had.

We expect to acomplish a great deal under the guidance of our capable sponsor, Mrs. Brown.

This year the III-B Class is in full swing with Crawford Ballard as president.

The members of this class have had two aims to which to look forward. One of the aims was to have all the III-B's at a class meeting. Another aim was to make these meetings better than any other class meeting in the school. We have been succeeding in our aims.

Our class has given one enjoyable skating party at the Kelly Roller Rink. More parties have been planned.

During the past term the II-A Class has accomplished a great deal. Our programs have been very interesting and entertaining. They have consisted of speeches, talks, songs, and piano solos.

We have had two skating parties and both proved successful. They were given at the Kelly Roller Rink.

Our president, Bernard Flanz, with the aid of Richard Block, has improved our knowledge of parliamentary law.

The success of our class meetings is due largely to the good work of our committees. The study posters have been especially helpful.

We of the I-A Class think we have accomplished a great deal under the guidance of our sponsors, Miss Ruth Christopher and Miss Margaret Brewer.

Our programs are divided into two sections; one week is devoted to guidance, and the following to entertainment.

Several mothers have attended the class meetings, and we are very glad to have any of them to visit us at all times.

Many teachers have spoken to us on different subjects. Some of these speakers were Mr. C. L. Ford, Major Harry E. Menezes, and Miss Alice Harrington.

Several of the clubs have sent representatives to tell the freshmen about their clubs. They have also helped us with parliamentary law.

The Chorus members usually give us a program, which we always enjoy.

OFFICERS

SPRING

Presidents	Harry and Jerry Hoffman
Vice-President	Norman Levine
Secretary	Charles Weber

Our I-B Class holds joint meeting with the I-A Class every other Wednesday morning.

During this semester we have had some excellent times at our class meetings. The programs have been very enjoyable. Some of our outstanding talent have been Emily Cook, Charles Weber, Leta Mae West, and John Chandler.

Our main aim has been to learn all the school yells and songs. Charles D. Smith and Billie Louise Rogers have been very kind to help us in learning some of the yells and songs.

Billie Louise Rogers is also our "Echo" reporter.

2. "Nine men and a girl." Fannie Rosenbloom is the girl.
3. A few of the big noises from the band.

Row Two

All lined up for the SOUND OFF.

Row Three

1. A. J. Gershowitz receives a military uplift!
2. Beat it out, boys.
3. Lieutenant Alton Ralston and his bodyguard.
4. "Now Gentlemen."

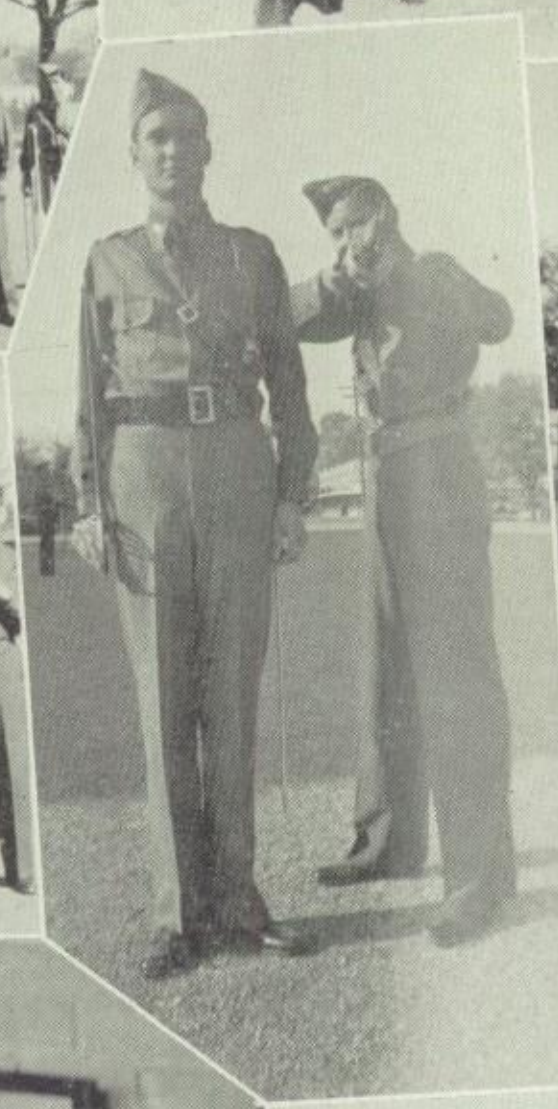
Row Four

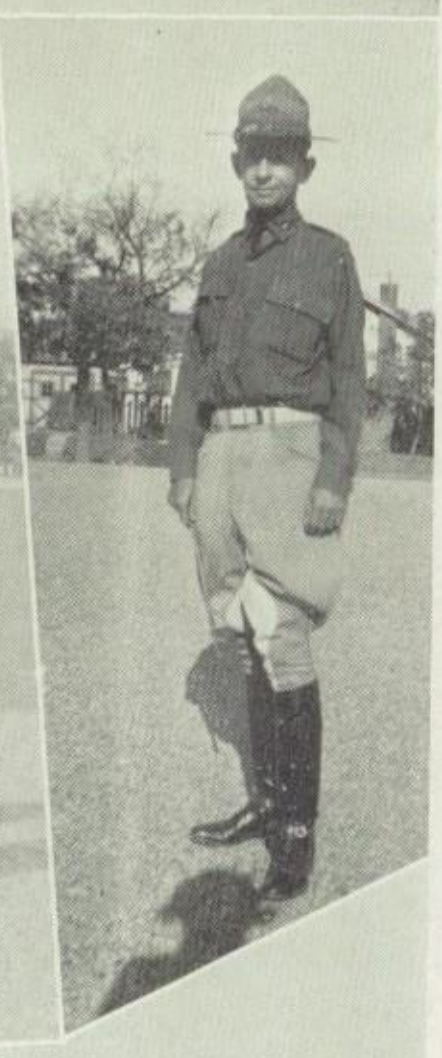
Forest's contribution to West Point: Jack McClure.

Row Five

1. The big noise during the fifth period.
2. Company D's Captain Merwin Hoffman, and Sergeant Allen McNeal practicing being a Bigger Shot.

MILITARY





HARRY E. MENEZES
Commandant

BILL HOLLAND
Lieutenant-Colonel

R. O. T. C.

The enrollment of the cadet corps at Forest Avenue High School has steadily increased in numerical strength and general efficiency during the past few years. This year the corps has an enrollment of 390 men, which is the largest enrollment during recent years.

The Forest corps ranks in the upper bracket in its standing with other Dallas schools. In the 1938 Federal Inspection the corps tied for second place. This reflects the serious efforts on the part of the personnel, and is proof that military training is popular with patrons of the school and their sons.

The company from Forest Avenue High School won the most important honors at Camp Dallas in 1937. At Camp Dallas, the West Point of the cadet corps, our company won the "Self Discipline and the Best Inspection Cups." In addition to this, Lieutenant-Colonel Bill Holland won the medal for being the most efficient company commander; Captain Peter Patton, the most efficient Lieutenant; and Captain Wallace Thrower, the most efficient officer in the band.

Captains

LAWRENCE WIGBELS
Company A

A hard-working, energetic young man, he is always reaching for the highest rank in the ladder of ambition. At Camp Dallas he brought home the coveted Sergeant's Efficiency Award and at present has one of the best companies in school.

MERWIN HOFFMAN
Company D

A fine officer, he is well liked by all his fellow officers. His humor is very entertaining to those who are associated with him. Merwin was Forest's representative for the Civitan Award at Camp Dallas during 1937.

PETER PATTON
Company B

A stickler for discipline, he shows us that size means nothing. At Camp Dallas he showed his worth by winning the distinguished honor of being the best second lieutenant in camp.

WALLACE THROWER
Band

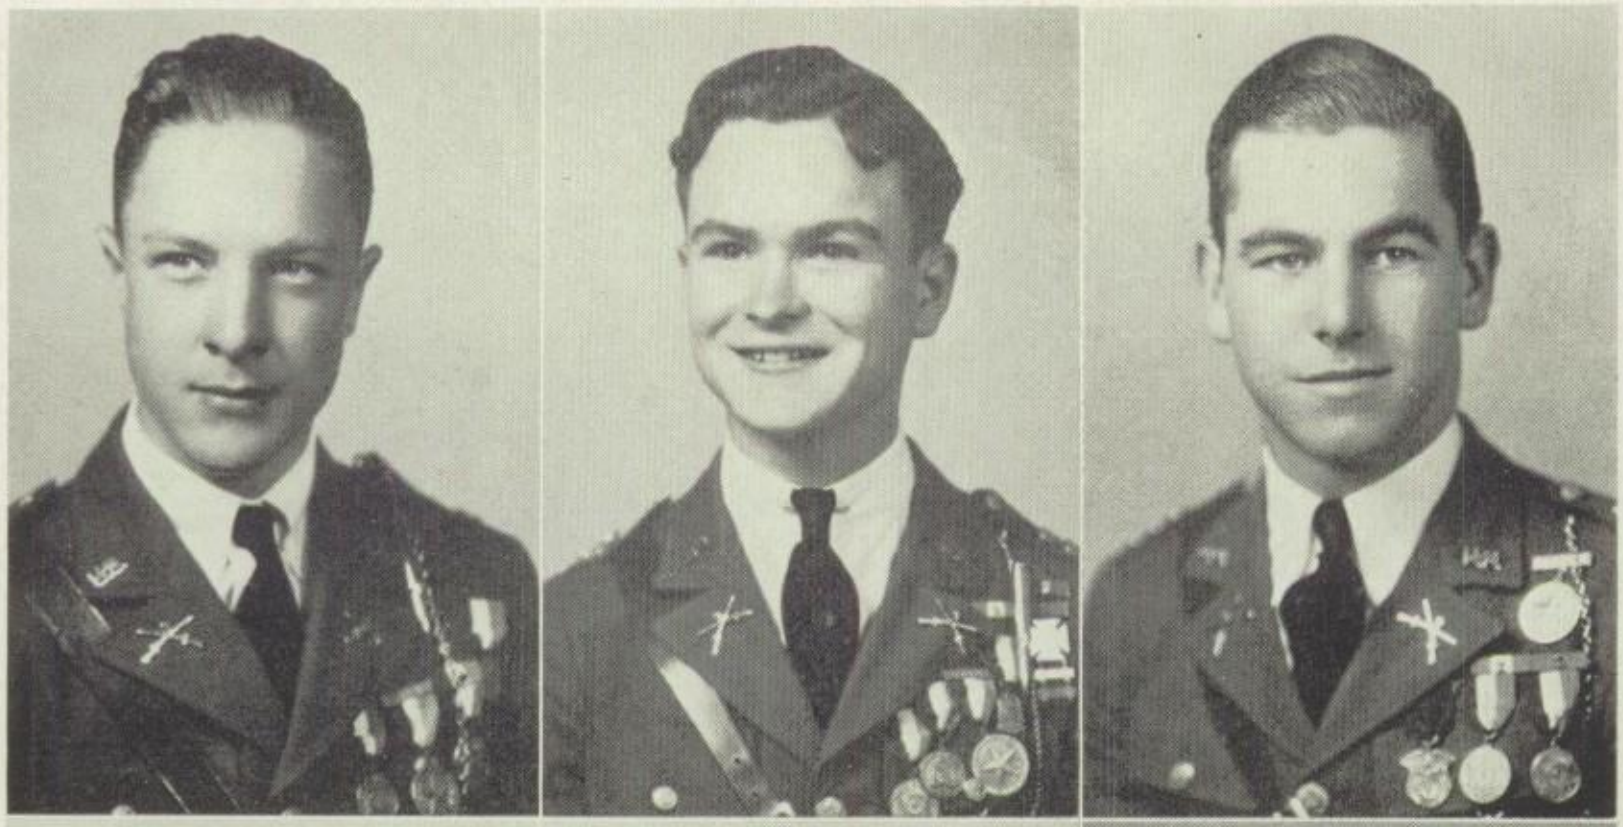
The captain of swing at Forest, he keeps all the students tapping time when he brings his well-trained cadets upon the field. He brought honor to Forest when he was elected to lead the famous Camp Dallas Band.

DEWEY FISHER
Company C

The pride of the corps, he is a dashing captain, a good soldier, and an all-round good fellow. Dewey has won his way into the hearts of his men, and has gained their respect through friendship.

STAGG RENZ
Rifle Team

Stagg is a dashing "Don Juan" whose prowess at firing a rifle is unexcelled. He is a good sport, a true friend, and, although a major, enjoys the company of privates.



Top Row: Wigbels, Patton, Fisher

Bottom Row: Hoffman, Thrower, Renz

The Forest High Girls Pep Squad was led by Eloise Wiley. The Co-Captains were Myrtle Bell Solano, and Daphne Curtis. The girls participated in every city football game, drilling between halves. All the girls did their part to make the Pep Squad of '37 a good one.

The girls in their colorful green and white uniforms were among the most loyal supporters of the teams.

The roaring Forest Lions opened the 1937 Football season with seven lettermen. On account of illness and injuries the Lions got off to a slow start, but soon began to drop all opposition into a defeated heap. Under the expert guidance of Alva Shepard, Bill Keeling, and Seldon Hutchinson, the Lions learned how to work together. The Lions showed real pep and sportsmanship throughout the season and had a most successful year.

Second Football Team

Second Row: Left to right: Embry, Overturf, Taylor, Haney, Smith, Tomlin, Voight, Sultis, Hearne, Hollywood, Withrow, Culibrk, and Woodruff.

FOREST, 0—CLEBURNE, 12

Coach Wesley Bradshaw's Cleburne Yellow Jackets were favored by Lady Luck, and the Johnson County invaders reached pay dirt twice in the final period, to score a win over the Lions to the tune of 12 to 0. After out-fighting the Yellow Jackets for three quarters, the Lions were too exhausted to repel a final charge in the fourth quarter. Dossett, Goss, Stampley, and Paternostro continually broke through the Cleburne line and threw the backs for many losses.

FOREST, 25—GLADEWATER, 0

The mighty Forest Lions turned out a real brand of football against Gladewater, and left the game with a score of 25-0. The Lions, under the coaching of Alva "Snag" Shepard, showed great improvement over the first game. Forest's first touchdown came eight minutes before the close of the third quarter, when Goss broke loose on an end around play and ran forty-nine yards for a touchdown. The Lions went on a rampage in the fourth quarter and scored three times in fifteen minutes. Big Ellsford Floyd carried the pigskin down the field for the first of these touchdowns; Norman DeLaughter, on a beautiful end run, scored the next touchdown; and Steer, on coming into the game, carried the oval down the field for the final score. It was a happy day for the Forest Lions.

FOREST, 0—TEMPLE, 18

The Lions, weakened considerably by injuries received in the last game, were downed by the strong Temple Wildcats, the final score being 18-0. The Lions got off to a bad start, but began to click in the second quarter and marked up many first downs. Floyd, Goss, and Steer combined their efforts to advance the ball deep into the Wildcat territory, but were stopped by a very heavy line. It seemed to be a day for aerial work, and many passes from Steer to Goss and Paternostro netted deep gains into Wildcat territory—all futile.

FOREST, 0—WOODROW WILSON, 15

Woodrow Wilson's fighting Wildcats overpowered the stubborn Forest Lions by a score of 15-0. What is this spell that Wildcats have over Lions? The plucky Lions out-fought the Wildcats for two quarters; but in the second half, with a fresh new team to their advantage, the Wildcats scored a total of fifteen points on the Foresters. Passing honors went to DeLaughter, and honors on the line were divided between Emanuel Paternostro and J. T. Lewellen.

FOREST, 7—SUNSET, 20

The Forest Lions met defeat at the hands of the powerful Sunset Bisons after a hard-fought game on both sides. The final figures were 20-7. Forest led the Bisons three full periods, and then gave way. Sunset's three touchdowns were all made in the fourth quarter against a group of very tired but still fighting Lions. Honors on the line were evenly divided among Goss, Jones, Stampley, and Weber; in the backfield, among Steer, Floyd, Sanders, and DeLaughter.

FOREST, 13—GREENVILLE, 0

It was the "survival of the fittest" between two Lion elevens, and the Forest Lions showed the Greenville Lions who the "fittest" were. Coach Shepard discovered a new sensational quarter back in the person of Norman Pribble, who ran circles around the Greenville boys, and led his team to a 13-0 victory. The Lions, although playing without the aid of Dossett, Paternostro, and Goss, showed much improvement over their previous games. Pribble's long runs and beautiful passes to Sanders scored two touchdowns for the Lions. The victory was a hard-fought, well-earned one.

FOREST, 0—NORTH DALLAS, 0

The Forest Lions and the North Dallas Bulldogs fought a gruelling battle which ended in a scoreless tie. The Lions' running attack was in full swing, and Pribble, Goss, and Sanders totaled many yards before the day was over. The Bulldogs were outplayed at every turn, scoring only seven first downs to the Lions' eleven. The thrill of the game came when North Dallas brought the ball to Forest's two-yard stripe, and in three downs netted minus four yards. On the fourth down Goss broke through the line and threw Mims, the Bulldog's All-City fullback, for a five yard loss. A thriller, if there ever was one.

FOREST, 20—TECHNICAL, 6

The fighting Lions proved too strong for the Tech Wolves, and gave them a beating, the game ending 20-6. The passing of Pribble to Goss was Forest's mainstay. These passes were good for two touchdowns. The second period started with a blocked punt by Goss, and the Lions took charge. Pribble passed to Goss for twenty yards, and Goss plunged his way across the line for the first touchdown. Lewellen blocked a punt and was responsible for the second touchdown. After several unsuccessful attempts at a goal, Pribble pulled a new trick out of his hat and called for a right end play. The play worked and Goss caught a pass over the goal line for the third touchdown. The whole Forest team played outstanding football throughout the game.

FOREST, 13—ADAMSON, 6

The Forest Lions closed their 1937 season in a blaze of glory by downing the favored Adamson Leopards by a count of 13-6. Roland Goss, playing his last game of high school football, got the jump on the Oak Cliff crew in the first two minutes of play. Goss blocked an Adamson punt and recovered on Adamson's 35-yard stripe. On the next play Pribble dropped back and unleashed a mighty heave to Goss who ran fifteen yards for a touchdown. Just as the half was up Forest scored again. This time Niblo of Adamson was passing, and Stone intercepted and ran 45 yards for a touchdown. The whole Forest team played a great brand of football, and little wonder, for the majority of the boys were playing their last game in GREEN and WHITE!

BASKETBALL

FIRST HALF

After winning all but two of their pre-season games, the Forest Lions opened the 1938 season with four letter men: Frank Horton, Roland Goss, Warren Sears, and Phillip Schreiber. The Lions were favored in having as their coach Richard C. Allison, former Forest football and basketball star.

The prospects for the 1939 Basketball Season seem bright, as there will be four returning lettermen: Lillebridge, Gillespie, Mitchell, and Weber. Graduating lettermen are Goss, Stampley, Sears, and Culibrk.

Coach Allison will depend on the following boys to fill the shoes of graduating seniors: Jimmy Stone, Bob Scott, Johnny Overturf, and Thomas Rogers.

FOREST, 14—WOODROW WILSON, 48

The Green and White Basketeers dropped their first game in the city series to the Woodrow Wilson Wildcats, defending district champions. The Lions fought with determination, but seemed unable to click against the rapid scoring of their opponents. They were spurred on by the two co-captains, Warren Sears and Roland Goss.

The Forest Cubs dropped their game 27-12.

FOREST, 13—TECH, 11

The snappy, roaring Forest Lions battled in their second city series game to gain a win over the highly favored Tech Hi Wolves. The contest was a see-saw battle throughout, with the count tied 5 all at the half. Soon the better playing of the Lions made itself felt, and a victory resulted. Warren Sears, co-captain, earned honors as high point man.

The Forest Cubs dropped their game 25-19.

FOREST, 26—ADAMSON, 30

The Forest Lions met their second defeat in the first half play at the hands of the Adamson Leopards. The Lions led throughout the game until the last part of the fourth period, when the Leopards tied the score and pushed through four points to cinch the game in the first overtime period.

The Forest Cubs lost their game 16-14.

FOREST, 10—NORTH DALLAS, 11

The Green and White Quint lost a heartbreaking game to the North Dallas Bulldogs for the Lions' fourth game of the season. The game was closely contested and was within the grasp of either team until the final whistle. This game was the most closely fought of any in the city. Roland Goss and Warren Sears shared high point honors.

The Forest Cubs defeated the Bulldog Pups by an overwhelming score of 27-13.

FOREST, 25—SUNSET, 23

The Forest Lions reared up, began to roar, and turned in a victory. The improved Forest Quint showed exceptional form in downing the Sunset Bisons. The Lions took the lead from the first and held it safely to the end. Coach Richard Allison's inspired team finished the first half race in third place as a result of this victory.

The Forest Cubs also turned in a victory over the Little Bisons to the tune of 16-15.

SECOND HALF

FOREST, 19—WOODROW WILSON, 39

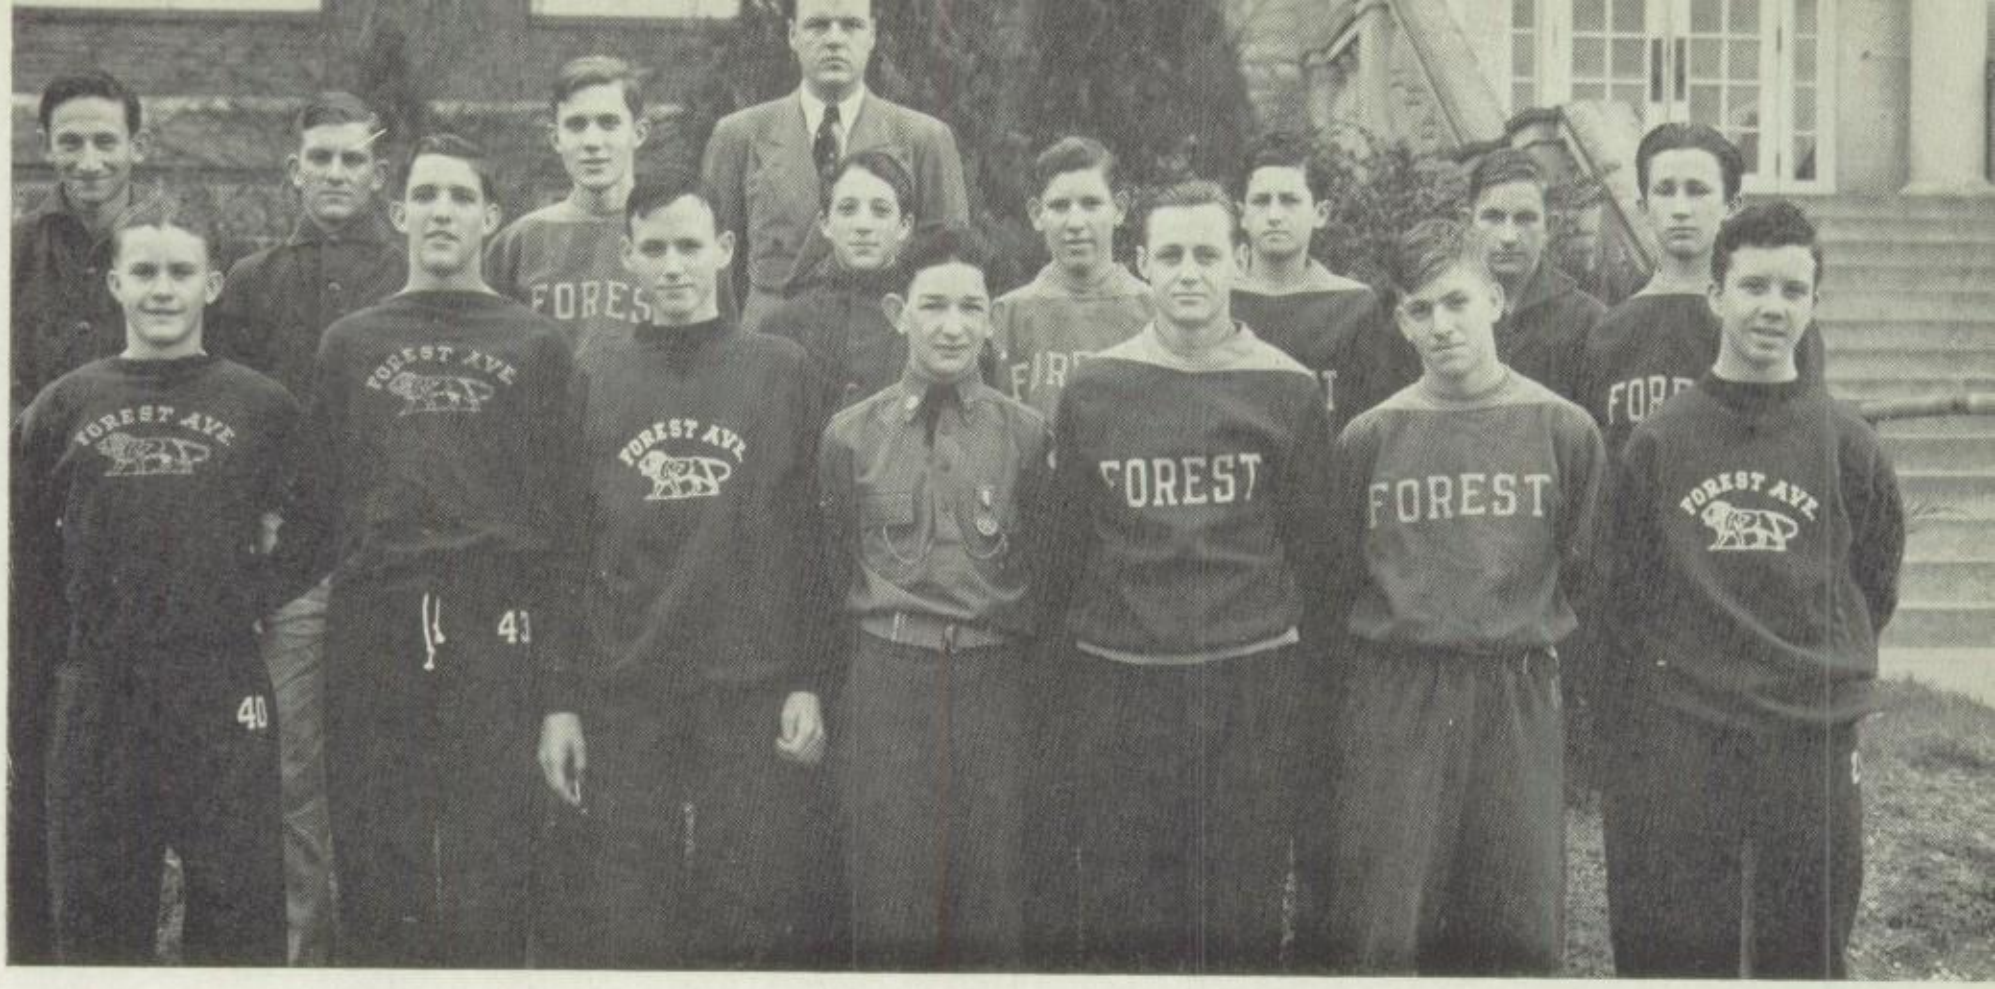
The Forest Lions, opening the second half race in their home gym, lost a hard-fought game to the Wildcats. In the first two periods the two clubs played on even terms. From the beginning of the third period the Woodrow boys continually forged ahead to win by a large margin. Mitchell, Sears, and Stampley proved that they could handle the ball with the best.

The Forest Cubs dropped their game 29-7.

FOREST, 17—TECH, 26

The Forest Lions, meeting the Tech Wolves in the second half race, dropped their second game. The Tech team seemed to be favored by Lady Luck, as only long shots were made. The Forest boys broke up many of the Tech charges but were unable to stave off defeat.

The Forest Cubs came through with a victory over the Tech Pups. The score was 16-14.



Second Basketball Team

Second Row: Left to right: Perlstein, McCullough, Taylor, Boronstein, Smith, Grabstald, Singletary, and Vann.

Third Row: Coach Allison.

Second Half

FOREST, 27—ADAMSON, 29

The Adamson Leopards nosed out the Lions in a thrilling four-period overtime contest. At no time during the game was one team ahead by more than three points. The Lions played one of their best games of the season and were able to stand up under the strain of extra periods. Warren Sears gained high-point honors.

The Forest Cubs dropped their game to the Little Leopards by a score of 18-14.

FOREST, 19—NORTH DALLAS, 32

In a fast, snappy contest the hard-fighting Lions were downed by the North Dallas Bulldogs. After trailing 16-17 at the half, the Lions spurted ahead in the third quarter, to make the game highly exciting until the last. Phillip Schreiber gained high-point honors.

The Forest Cubs defeated the North Dallas Pups 25-24.

FOREST, 18—SUNSET, 24

In Forest's last game of the year the Sunset Bisons turned the tables and defeated the stronger Lion Quint. The wearers of the Green and White fought hard and showed their fine sportsmanship in the face of defeat. Sears earned honors as high-point man.

The Forest Cubs defeated the Little Bisons by a score of 18-13.

TRACK

The most promising track team Forest has had in many a year was led by three returning lettermen: Cecil Redd, Roland Goss, and Philip Schreiber, under the capable direction of Coach W. H. Keeling. The mile relay team showed possibilities of setting a state record. Goss has shown up quite well in the field events, with Cecil Redd, and Philip Schreiber on the cinders. All three returning lettermen were members of the team that went to the State Meet last year. There are some twenty sprint men: Burns, C. Redd, J. Redd, Hickman, Duckworth, McKenzie, Weber, Cade, Vann, Vita, Long, Carpenter, Culibrk, Stone, Lillebridge, Womack, Mitchell, Miltner, Simmons, and Slocum..

Herman Mitchell and Bennie Miltner fought it out in the city meet when both tested their running ability with other milers.

Curtis Slocum proved to be a valuable man in the pole vault. Earl Burns was the fastest man at Forest this year, and the dashes depended upon him. Glenn Carpenter and Ernest Duckworth showed possibilities of making the relay team. Steve Culibrk proved valuable in the low hurdles after an injury received early in the season had healed successfully.

The Forest Track squad showed up in their last track meet as a strong contender. Although finishing third in the meet, the team was fast on the cinders, scoring 41 points. Philip Schreiber was high point man with 6¼ points; Burns, a close second with 6 points. Cecil Redd grabbed the spotlight for Forest when he ran the 440 dash in 52.4 seconds.

In the city meet held March 30 and 31, Philip Schreiber won the half mile in 2:05, Herman Mitchell won the mile in 4:58. The relay team won the relay without being pushed. Their best time this year was 3:34.3. Cecil Redd ran a close second in the 440. Roland Goss placed fourth in the broad jump. Billie Miltner placed fourth in the mile, making a total of twenty-one points made by Forest in the City Meet.

In the District 11 track meet our mile relay team made a new record, running in 3:32.6.

First Row: Left to right: DeLaughter, B. Taylor, Davis, Harkness, Gillespie, Weber, Wadsworth, Stanberry, Sultis, and Colletti.

BASEBALL

With four letter men, Burford Steer, Sam Colleti, Norman DeLaughter and C. L. Bryant, Forest opened the 1938 baseball season with a bright outlook.

FOREST, 3—WOODROW WILSON, 4

Forest's nine started the season playing heads-up baseball. They led the Wildcats until the fifth inning, when their opponents were able to score two runs. Later in the game with two men on base Forest tried a "squeeze play," which failed. Every man on the Forest team was an outstanding player, and the team played an excellent game against their favored opponents.

FOREST, 1—TECHNICAL, 2

The second game of the year was played with Tech at Reverchon. The Lions were determined to win, but they were held to only one run by Tech's star pitcher, "Country" Williamson. Sam Colleti pitched an "air tight" game, allowing Tech to make only two runs.

Although Forest lost the first two games of the season, the Lions should go places in the second half under the slugging of Norman DeLaughter and the pitching of Stanberry and Coletti.

TENNIS AND GOLF

TENNIS

With the two former squadmen, Margaret Harlan and Fannie Rosenbloom, and Mr. J. Allen Boulton and Miss Locille Segrist as coaches, Forest entered the Tennis Matches with high ambitions.

The boys singles player was Harry Cobbel. Although Harry tried hard to win, he came out a loser this year. Richard Taylor and Eugene Levin played on the boys doubles team. They played a good game in each match and defeated Woodrow Wilson, Sunset, and Tech.

The girls singles player this year was Fannie Rosenbloom. Fannie also stayed in and fought. She defeated North Dallas and Tech. The girls doubles was the pride of Forest tennis teams. This team was made up of Selma Wacker and Margaret Harlan. Because of their perfect cooperation and knowledge of tennis, the girls won both the City Championship and the District 11 Championship.

GOLF

The candidates for the Forest Avenue High School golf team for 1938 are Johnny Overturf, Dean Stepter, Earl Huddleston, Laveenon Faircloth and Charles Cook. The coach of the team is Mr. C. L. Ford.

So far the boys have shown up well in their matches. The matches have the following score: Sunset, 6—Forest, 0; Forest, 6—Adamson, 0; Forest, 5½—North Dallas, ½.

AUTUMN

The Autumn leaves are fluttering to the ground,
All red, gold, orange, and brown.
The birds are winging their carefree way,
To the warmer South where they will be happy and gay.
The fields are ripe with lovely grain,
Thanks to you, O precious rain.
The ring of children's joyous songs and sounds,
Tells us that Thanksgiving is around.
Ah, what is that? A hunter's gun,
Then soon the deer will be on the run.
A hunting coat, a horse's neigh.
Make way, my man, the hounds are chasing their prey.
Oh, Autumn dear, I would that thee,
Could stay year round for the world and me.

—Dorothy Mark.

THE SEA

The wide expanse of beach
Beneath our willing feet,
The falling, rising tide,
The lighthouse there beside,
The bell buoys clanging deep,
The breakers madly sweep,
The fog horns booming there
To pierce the heavy air,
We listen raptuously
To the music of the sea.

—Ruth Aronson.

Through the years the Echo has been the "Voice of Forest." It has tried to print only what will interest the greatest number and has stuck close to the slogan of the newspaper world: "Print only what is fit to print." It takes the lead in all worthy school projects, and promotes friendship, honor, sportsmanship, and character among the students.

No honor conferred by the school excels that conferred by the National Honor Society. The faculty honors students for the attainments they have made during their high school career by electing them into this society. Election into this society gives recognition to those who have attained high honors in scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Only students who rank in the upper fourth of their class in scholarship are eligible to be considered as candidates. Five per cent of the students in the III-A class, ten per cent of the IV-B class, and fifteen per cent of the IV-A class, may be taken into the National Honor Society. An assembly is held each term initiating the candidates.

The emblem of the society is the keystone and the flaming torch. The keystone symbolizes the high ideals of the society, while the flaming torch is the emblem of purpose. The members of the National Honor Society endeavor to lead so that others may follow in the light, and to keep burning in Forest Avenue High School a high ambition for the enduring values of life.

The Standard Debating Society is the oldest high school club in the city. It has as its aim better public speaking in all forms, and genuine school spirit in everything it undertakes.

The Standard is composed wholly of boys and is conducted under parliamentary law. It is always guided in the right directions by an able and worthy sponsor, Miss Edna Rowe, assisted by Mr. Goodman.

It is the custom of the society to have a banquet each year, at which are gathered many of the alumni of the society. This year the Standard held its twenty-second annual banquet.

The society gives a play each year in the auditorium, and furnishes boys for the State Debate contest, the State Play contest, the Declamation contest, and the Extemporaneous Speaking contest.

The purpose of the Girls Public Speaking Club is to help the girls in public speaking of all forms. It also helps the girls in parliamentary law. Furthermore, we hope that the members of this club will make some of their life-long friends in this organization.

Under the direction of Idelle Goodman and Sarah Tankus the Girls Public Speaking Club will present their annual play in the assembly, which will be "Too Many Marys."

The annual banquet will be given at the Jefferson Hotel.

The purpose of our club is to promote interest in the study of Texas history.

Our organization is one of the most active clubs of the school. The project for the club during 1938 is to replace at Fair Park the markers and trees which have been destroyed.

The club participates in programs during Texas Week and in presenting books to the Texas Memorial Library of Forest Avenue High School. On February 28, 1938, we sponsored a radio program advertising Texas Week.

The Forest Forum was organized in March, 1933, by nine charter members. The purpose of the organization is to promote discussions of questions of public interest in government and economics. Members are given topics to report on; these reports are followed by round table discussions.

The club has been active in school affairs. It has made numerous donations of books, maps, and pictures to the school. In March, 1936, the club sponsored three night Open Forums on timely Texas topics.

The members do not neglect the social side of their club. Annual social events are the Christmas party, the spring banquet, and the spring picnic.

A cup is given each term to the most efficient IV-A Senior.

The aims of the Aelta Historical Society are to make it possible for the members to enrich their knowledge of history, and to gain a finer and fuller appreciation of present-day life. In the early fall a study was made of the Far Eastern crisis. Major Joe M. Hill, our speaker for the Armistice assembly, contributed to our understanding of national peace policies, in one of the outstanding assemblies of the year.

The fifth birthday of the Aelta was celebrated this year. Rose Marcus gave an original poem in commemoration of the event in November. Hoping to share our joys with others, we distributed baskets to the needy at Christmas.

As the most efficient member for the fall term, Jane Abrahamson received the Aelta Historical Society pin.

A delightful program of music composed for the inauguration of Washington was presented at the February meeting. Texas Week was not forgotten. An historical pilgrimage, play, panel discussion, and picnic rounded out a great year for our society.

The Forest Unit is only a part of the Pan American Student Forum. The Forum is established in many cities of eight states, and each third year all the chapters meet in a National Convention. This year a State Convention was held in Laredo, Texas, on March 18-19.

Our purposes are (1) to develop an understanding of the people of the other twenty American nations; (2) to create interest in and broaden our knowledge of the language, history, people, and customs of these republics; and (3) to foster friendly relations between the Spanish-speaking and the English-speaking people, and thus to maintain peace on the Western Hemisphere.

We are especially proud of the fact that we were the first school selected for an exchange student, Senor Otillio Ayala from Monterrey, Mexico, who spent the first term at Forest perfecting his study of English, and who is now attending A. & M. College.

The purpose of Le Cercle Francais is to become acquainted with the lives and customs of the French people. Its aim is to make French more interesting to the student.

The annual social event is the Noel Party. It is the custom to give a party at Christmas time, at which a discussion of the typical French Christmas is held.

On account of the illness of Mrs. Minnie P. Ardrey, Miss Octavia Edwards is substituting as sponsor. Miss Edwards' experiences as a school girl in France have served to acquaint the students with many of the social customs of the French people.

The purpose of the Forest Allied Arts Club is to make art more real to its members. Membership is open not only to students enrolled in the Art Department, but also to any Forest High student who is keenly interested in art. Frequent visits to the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts have been made so that an appreciation of good painting may be developed. Also sketching has been done at the Museum of Natural History and at the Aquarium. Every year visits are made to pottery exhibitions.

Each year the art students have an exhibit of the best work of the year.

The purpose of the Latin Club is to further the knowledge of Roman plays, art, religion, games. It seeks to give its members a broader idea of the Roman people and their value to the world.

The weekly programs of the club revolve about different phases of Roman life. Then, too, there are games to be played, occasional talks by outside speakers, and book reviews. The two main events in the club activities for the year are the play pertaining to Roman life, and the picnic.

The High Scholarship Club since its organization in June, 1921, has increased its membership every semester, until now it has an approximate enrollment of one hundred members who have made the required 90 average. Last year the club celebrated its fifteenth anniversary, at which time Mr. Wylie A. Parker spoke at the meeting, giving a summary of the history of the organization since its beginning.

The High Scholarship Club, in an effort to help the unfortunate on these occasions, took a leading part in making and distributing Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets.

It is the hope of the members and the sponsor, Miss Rachel Foote, that in the future the High Scholarship Club will continue to grow and uphold the aims and ideals for which it stands.

The Hi-Y Clubs are promoted by the Young Men's Christian Association and are affiliated with the state and national Hi-Y movement.

The purpose of the club is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. The membership in the club, because of its high ideals, is limited and selective. It is not the purpose just to have a large membership; the quality of its membership is the important thing.

The slogan of the club is clean living, clean speech, clean athletics, and clean scholarship.

During the past year the Senior Hi-Y has taken part in many activities. Among outstanding outside activities were the "Older Boys' Conference" in Temple, Texas, February 4-7; survey of "Little Mexico"; and preparation of Thanksgiving baskets. The Forest divisions of the Hi-Y were well represented in all these undertakings.

Girl Reserves are junior members of the Young Women's Christian Association. The blue triangle of the association symbolizes the three cardinal principles of the Girl Reserve movement: Health, Knowledge, and Spirit. It is around these that the program of the club is built. The activities of the organization are designed to make the girls physically fit, and mentally and morally sound. A code for gracious living is recognized as an ideal toward which to strive.

The girls have performed their usual services this year, serving as guards in the girls' restroom, and giving a Thanksgiving basket to the needy of Dallas. Parties welcoming freshman girls and other new pupils to the school were given by the Girl Reserves. In addition, the Forest club has had part in the monthly inter-city Girl Reserve luncheons sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Association, at one of which, the February meeting, the Forest Girls served as hostesses.

The club initiated the plan this year of awarding a loving cup to the most efficient member. The first award given was to Gene Moore, president of the club during the fall term.

The Forest Avenue High School Orchestra for the year 1937-38 is one of the best the school has had in several years. They have played for several music assemblies and sing-songs; the Armistice Day, Thanksgiving, and special Christmas programs; the Senior plays and commencement exercises. During the spring term they had a part in the Easter program given at the Band Shell by the Music Department and also played in the State Orchestra Contest held in Dallas, April 2, 1938.

The Boys Glee Club has given a number of programs this year. Armistice Day, the Chorus presented a cantata, "The American Ode," expressing a desire for peace. The day before the Christmas holidays, we presented a Christmas Cantata, "The Birthday of The King," and at the Football Banquet we sang "Who Is Sylvia?" and "Come to the Fair." A radio program over Station WRR was given. Following that, the chorus participated in one of the Texas Week programs. On April 4, the Music Department gave a program of Spring and Easter music.

BIRDS

Free to wander
  Where they please,
Winging higher
  Than the trees.
Cares and worries,
  They must have those,
But what they are
  He only knows.

For their home
  The emerald trees,
For their fan
  The evening breeze,
The light grows dim,
  It's time for rest,
They wend their way
  Back to their nest.

Forest is entering the third successful year with its present banking system. Many prominent people have visited the bank and have commented on the efficiency of this system.

The total amount on deposit March 1, 1938, was $18,040.06. At that time there were 1206 depositors. This makes an average of $14.95 for each depositor.

The Student Council of Forest High School was organized this past year to cooperate with the faculty and to be a voice for the students. The purpose of the organization is to promote, with approval of the faculty, the welfare of all the activities of Forest Avenue High School, by participation in school administration.

The council was formed by a group of students who sacrificed some of their duties in other organizations to build the first Student Council. These students came to school half an hour before school time for six months and drew up the constitution.

The qualifications for membership are as follows: All students in council must be passing in four solid subjects; elective officers should hold no other office. The council is not considered as a club.

It is the hope of the school that the Student Council will become a strong force in the direction of school affairs.

THANKS FOR THE MEMORIES

Thanks for the memories
Of pencil, pen and book,
That sad, pathetic look
When thinking of our lessons
And of all the time they took,
How slowly we worked.

Thanks for the memories
Of days in 202
Long after school was through,
And all because we had some gum
And had to take a chew;
How painful that was!

Many's the time that we've cheered
For the glory of old Forest High;
Your memory's forever endeared,
And our hearts are sad as we say goodbye.

So thanks for the memories
Of your beloved halls,
Of rooms and locker stalls;
We've enjoyed every minute that we've spent within your walls,
And as we say adieu, Dear Forest High to you,
We thank you so much.

—Helen Lehwald.

(Thanks to the authors of "Thanks for the Memories.")

GIFTS

Have you ever been alone of a rainy afternoon,
Perhaps reading lines from Milton,
Or humming sprightly tune
From some great Master's repertoire?

Have you walked in meadows splashed with summer clover everywhere,
Or sat beneath a spreading tree while daisies here and there
Stared at you with wide open eyes and said,
"Sir, do you realize that we are very beautiful?"

Have you heard the red leaves crackle like a fire beneath your feet
And hollow autumn winds whistling symphonies so sweet;
And plaintive songs of winter echoing through a frosty night,
As the elfins dance outside, and the blasting elements fight,
Each one to be the strongest?

Then know that you have lived and been
And done and felt the world beneath your grasp,
And when some day you reach a strand far distant do not ask,
"What has life given me?"

—Elsie Rose Israel.

TO HELP YOU LIVE EACH DAY

The world says, "Come, don't be a bum,
And you will live all right."
If smiles do lead you in your need
To live in great delight.

Take up your work and never shirk,
A smile will find the way;
For work is grand if you'll understand
You need to live each day.

Don't wait for friends to come and lend
To you a helping hand,
But show your grit by doing it
And really be a man.

Smile your way through, that's all you do
To turn work into play;
A simple smile is worth your while
To help you live each day.

—Glenn Carpenter.

ANTITHESIS

While strolling in the snow one day,
I paused beside a peaceful stream,
And as the sun was shining gay,
I watched the play of each small beam.

The trees, the grass, the snow, the rocks,
Were gleaming at the water's edge,
The geese flew north in waving flocks,
And snow had bared a distant ledge.

A few weeks later came the Spring,
And with it came the joy supreme,
Of souls whose voices have a happy ring,
Which always have as Love their theme.

Green trees, green grass no snow on rocks
Were gleaming at the water's edge,
But gathered 'round were geese in flocks,
Like birds around an unripe hedge.

—Sam King.

FEATURES

A DREAM REALIZED

From the day I was born, on through my childhood, the name America became a dream. My every morning, noon, and night was crowded by the dream of America.

I was hungry for the pure and free air that every one spoke about. I desired to see the gold on the streets and all the people free, equal, and happy. I wanted to be one of them.

For seven long years I kept building up my dreams. Each day I added a little more to them, and each night before bed I prayed that they would come true.

Finally, the day came and I realized that my dreams were coming true, and my prayers were not in vain. In less than a year I would be in the land of my dreams. I would actually be living and breathing the pure free air in this grand and glorious America.

Everything was well until I had to bid all my dear ones good-bye. Only those who have parted from their loved ones can understand the way I felt. And still I wanted to go on to America.

When I arrived at New York, I was amazed at seeing things like those in the European cities. Though the language was strange, everyone kept telling me that in no time I would be able to speak like all other Americans.

Several years passed, but I had not found America as I had dreamed to find it. I could not see the difference in the air and I found no gold on the streets.

Ah! but now I have realized my dream and everything has come true. I have seen how my brethren are persecuted in foreign lands, forbidden to walk on the same streets with other citizens and to breathe the air of freedom.

How well do I realize the purity and freedom in the air that I breathe, and how well do I see that every step that I take on the street is paved with a gold that is greater than gold. I walk the streets as a citizen, proud and unafraid of dictators.

No one will ever know how thankful I am for this beloved land. Every night I go to bed giving a prayer for the preservation of America, for I have realized my dream.

FOREST FAVORITES

Selected by Popular Vote of the Student Body

GENE MOORE

Gene "Sweetness" Moore—is a "perfect specimen" of personality. Her smiles to everyone have not only made her have such a charming personality, but have also won for her the title of the most popular girl in the school. She takes part in all sports and is always willing to do more than her share in anything she undertakes. She belongs to many school organizations, all of which are made better by her tireless efforts and cheerful cooperation. And here is a girl whose scholarship record has been consistently good. Orchids to you, Gene, and may Forest have many more like you in years to come!

JUANITA HARRIS

In a recent contest Juanita Harris won the title of "class cut-up." This name fits her to a "t." When Juanita is in class, you can always count on plenty of humor to break the monotony. She is liked by everyone, for who can resist that mischievous smile and friendly manner? Juanita's ambition is to be in Walter Winchell's column. (Let's hope Mr. Winchell does her justice.)

JUNE WITTKOWER

June Wittkower is one of the sweetest girls in the senior class. Her lovable disposition and her even temper make her easy to get along with. June is an excellent dancer. She is always sure to get a rush at a dance. In her spare time she takes care of her shiny blonde locks. June believes that "beauty is only skin deep." She uses very little make-up, for her natural beauty needs little accent. She has held many offices in the class, and always performs her duties efficiently.

ROLAND GOSS

Roland Goss—"Stormy" to his friends—is a perfect example of a high school athlete. "Stormy" believes that if you do a thing you must do it well. That he means this, can be clearly seen by the record he has made for himself in football, basketball and track. His favorite pastime is collecting newspaper clippings of himself.

When he walks down the hall, he leaves a trail of fluttering hearts behind. Strange as it may seem, the favorite subject of this big, strong athlete is Home Economics.

CLARENCE EATON

It is very seldom indeed that the same person holds the offices of IV-B and IV-A President. However, Clarence Eaton made such an efficient IV-B President that the class called him back for an encore. Clarence is the boy with the "million dollar smile." When that smile goes to work, it radiates such sunshine that it is hard for anyone in the same room to resist returning it. But when he goes to work, there is a determined set to his jaw that gets results with a capital R.

DEWEY FISHER

One of the most dashing of our military officers is Dewey Fisher. One is sure to notice this tall, dark, and handsome chap as he strides through the halls. Dewey was a yell leader during football season and did much to "pep up" the Forest rooting section. He speaks with a lazy, southern drawl, frequently emphasizing his remarks by means of wild gestures with his hands. He will sometimes stare off so intently into space that anyone looking at him will wonder exactly what he is thinking about. Maybe it's military, maybe it's athletics, maybe it's the senior dance. We'll never know.

DIARY

SEPTEMBER 17—Carefree vacation days are over, and students truck up to school for enrollment. After a hard day of going through yards and yards of red tape, we no longer truck, but drag ourselves home.

SEPTEMBER 18—First day of school. Teachers are in excellent humor. (Let's hope they stay that way.) I'm so sick of writing my name that I could scream. I dream of covering books.

SEPTEMBER 20—First assembly of the year. It looks like old times with everybody standing up. Try-outs are held for yell leader. Everyone gets splendid tonsil exercise.

SEPTEMBER 27—C. G. Bechenbach speaks on "Safety." He illustrates his talk on the blackboard.

OCTOBER 4—E. D. Walker speaks for the Junior Red Cross.

OCTOBER 7—Pep assembly held. We'll bring down that roof yet.

OCTOBER 8—Pep rally held at night. Invitations were issued, and a large crowd turns out.

OCTOBER 9—Parade is held in the morning. Forest plays Woodrow and loses, 13-0.

OCTOBER 11—Captain W. G. Burns speaks on "Fire Prevention." Firemen's band plays several numbers. Swing it, boys!

OCTOBER 15—Forest loses to Sunset, 20-7. Gee, for a while it looked as if we had 'em.

OCTOBER 22—Forest beats Greenville, 13-0. Yippee!

OCTOBER 25—C. J. Rutland, head of the Dallas Traffic Commission speaks on "Safety." We're actually getting safety conscious, aren't we?

NOVEMBER 8—Armistice Day program. Major Joe Hill speaks on "Peace." Aelta Historical Society has charge of program.

NOVEMBER 11—Time out for Armistice Day. Many Foresters get shoved about while watching the parade down town.

NOVEMBER 13—Forest beats Tech, 20-6. It's about time we showed them who we are.

NOVEMBER 15—P.-T. A. paid assembly. Miss Pauline Wright presents "Exit the Grand Duchess." The "grand duchess" makes our boys sit up and take notice.

NOVEMBER 18—Traffic Safety Contest. Bill Holland wins first place.

NOVEMBER 20—Annual grudge battle between Forest and Adamson. We win, 13-6. Were they mad!

NOVEMBER 24—Public Speaking department presents Thanksgiving program. School's out for the holidays. Finally!

NOVEMBER 29—John W. McCord speaks on "Alaska." Arouses the spirit of adventure in our boys. The Faculty "Misses" are now pouring over travel circulars from the Far North.

DECEMBER 2—Student-faculty basketball game. The "appletakers" won again. And disappointment on disappointment, Mr. LaBorne forgot his tow sack. Oh, Mr. Allison, did you notice the feminine sighs as you dribbled by?

DECEMBER 3—IV-A's sponsor first dance of the year. Everybody's learning how to do the "Big Apple."

DECEMBER 7—National Honor Society holds initiation. Dr. David Lefkowitz, Jr., speaks on "The Aristocracy of Being a Man."

DECEMBER 10—IV-B dance. We're improving on that "Big Apple."

DECEMBER 13—Musical program is given under direction of Miss Wilcox. Have any of you ever listened to a sing-song over the "mike" in study hall? Try it sometime —the effect is rather unusual.

DECEMBER 17—Banquet is given for the football boys.

DECEMBER 20—Public Speaking department gives a Christmas program in hill-billy style. Miss Clark sings. Like Simone Simon, she sings, she sings! Mr. Boulton gives a high-powered sales talk, and Mr. Moore plays a tune on his musical bottles. (He let me play them during Chemistry. More fun—!)

DECEMBER 22—Musical Christmas program is given. School's out for the holidays.

JANUARY 3—School starts once more. What has happened to everyone's pep? I keep writing '37 instead of '38. Ho hum! I wish I could go to sleep.

JANUARY 7—Junior Prom. Many juniors attend. And we thought all of those children were freshmen!

JANUARY 8—Signs are going up all over school urging us to look for "Jumbo." This type of advertising reminds me of "Watch for it, it's coming," and "See Lita Monday." Remember?

JANUARY 10—Senior Day. Milton Rubin, president of the IV-A's, acts as Master of Ceremonies for a variety program. Saved by a senior "teacher!" (I didn't have my English.)

JANUARY 14—Football boys receive their sweaters and letters. Many flutterings among the femmes in the audience.

JANUARY 21—The January graduates present their senior play, "Among the Winners." Those who went to see it were "among the winners" of super-colossal entertainment. Good work, kids.

JANUARY 24—Exams, the spooks which haunt every student twice a year, start.

JANUARY 28—After several days of suspense, students come to get their report cards. Many a heavy heart leaves the building, while some are filled with relief and joy.

JANUARY 31—The grand parade begins. In other words, enrollment.

FEBRUARY 2—First day of school. Won't somebody let me stay in his class? I had four study halls today.

FEBRUARY 14—Valentine's Day. Bel Canto Quartet gives a musical program in a paid assembly.

FEBRUARY 21—It's snowing again. Is this Texas or Alaska?

FEBRUARY 22—Popularity contest is held. Roland Goss and Gene Moore come out on top.

FEBRUARY 28—Texas Week begins. Texas History Club sponsors program in assembly.

MARCH 4—Public Speaking department gives program in assembly. Students become impatient when the Victrola refuses to start.

MARCH 7—Miss Wilcox leads us in a singsong. Many pupils were tempted to "swing out" on "The Bonnie, Bonnie Banks of Loch Lomond." However, the accompanist's version was written long before the influence of Benny Goodman.

MARCH 14—Linz pins are presented in assembly. Aha! Now we know who burns that midnight oil.

MARCH 18—IV-A's sponsor the first gym dance of the year. And "a good time was had by all."

MARCH 21—First day of spring. Ah me, it does something to you, doesn't it?

MARCH 25—III-A's sponsor sport dance at night. If the Junior Prom goes over as well as this dance did, it will certainly be a success.

MARCH 28—Representatives from the Texas Highway Commission conduct a survey during English classes.

MARCH 29—Tryouts are held for the senior play. The suspense begins.

APRIL 1—April fool! The IV-B's give an April Fool Dance.

MAY 16—Senior Day.

MAY 20—Senior Play, "HOW DARE YOU!"

MAY 27--Senior Dance.

MAY 29—Baccalaureate.

JUNE 2—End of our high school days—Graduation.

JUNE, '38 CLASS WILL

We, the seniors,
In sound body and mind,
Feeling generous and kind,
Leave you future senior classes
The best we find in our lads and lasses:

Wallace Thrower,
Who dances like Astaire,
Leaves Lester Levy
His complexion so fair.

Norma Gene Guynes,
Our little honey,
Leaves Janice Kaufman
Her smile so sunny.

Helen Lehwald,
With personality plus,
Wills her sense of humor
To all of us.

A jolly boy
Is Leon Kahn;
He leaves his smile
To a military man.

Bill Holland,
Answer to a maiden's prayer,
Wills David Goodman
His sleek black hair.

Margie Read,
With big blue eyes,
Leaves her innocent look
To Mavis Mize.

So happy and gay,
Leaves her wit
To Ola Ray.

Tall, blond, and handsome
Roland Goss,
Leaves the football team
His job as boss.

Elaine Watel,
Whose charm never ends,
Leaves Margaret Lively
"How to Win Friends."

Clarence Eaton,
Who is never sad,
Bequeaths his smile
To a lucky lad.

Dhal Fletcher,
Of whom we're so fond,
Leaves her golden locks
To a disappointed blonde.

Juanita Harris,
Who has fun while she may,
Wills her art of cutting up
To Dorothy Ray.

Mrs. Levin's
Son, Eugene,
Wills Jerry Shalette
His high esteem.

Ruby Briggs,
With freckles to spare,
Leaves Dorothy Johnson
Her bright red hair.

Maudine and Vaudine,
One dark, one light,
Leave the way they get along
To twins who fight.

Leaves her charming smile
To Mabel Segell
To wear for a while.

Jane Abrahamson,
One of the busiest girls,
Leaves Elsie Streicher
Her neat golden curls.

Freda Rogers,
With admirers so many,
Leaves them to girls
Who haven't any.

A loyal Forester,
Is Celia Green,
She leaves her school spirit
To Velina McMeans.

Jerry Krakoff,
Pretty pictures he makes,
Leaves Norman Pribble
All the hearts he breaks.

A dark complexion
Has Helen Berman;
She wills Louise Hemphill
Her gorgeous tan.

Phillip Shreiber,
A basket ball star,
Leaves Tom Gillespie
His two-bit car.

Sally Bierner,
Who wishes us luck,
Wills Shirley Blasser
Her ability to truck.

Frances Zimmerman,
With pitch black hair,
Leaves her long eyelashes
To Margaret Blair.

A future big-shot
Is Willis Ables;
He leaves small ears
To all Clark Gables.

Walter Hardwick,
The well-dressed man,
Leaves his checkered coats
To an admiring fan.

Jack Strange,
With handsome features,
Leaves his love
To all the teachers.

A star track man
Is Cecil Redd,
He leaves shy boys
"How to Knock 'em Dead."

And I, Bernice Rubin,
Leave my dictionary of rhymes
To those who write wills
In future times.

Texas Week

"Land where bluebonnets brave a Texas spring,
And dogwood, white and fragrant, has its way."

Texas Week is always a colorful one at Forest Avenue High School. This year it was more so than ever because the days of March and April, 1938, are identical with those of March and April of 1836. Our principal, Wylie A. Parker, is the originator of Texas Week, and the students of Forest Avenue High School always celebrate it with enthusiasm and ceremony.

Two assemblies honored Texas Week this year. The first was on February 28, and the other on March 4. The assembly on February 28 was presented by the Texas History Club. Rose Kaufman opened the program with a speech entitled "The Significance of Texas Week." Lucy Schwartz played a piano solo, "Impromptu." The Honorable Leslie Jackson, a prominent lawyer and a descendant of John H. Reagan, made the central speech, which gave unusual phases of Texas history. A quartet composed of Dixie Holtman, H. C. Balthrop, Knox Robbins, and Jane Kizer sang "Texas, Our Texas." Books were presented to the Texas Memorial Library by clubs and classes. The assembly closed with the singing of Texas songs, led by Miss Louise Wilcox.

The assembly on March 4 was presented by the Speech Arts Department under the direction of Miss Helen Fern Black. The assembly was divided into six parts, which represented Texas as it was under the French, Spanish, Mexican, Texas, Confederate, and American flags. There were reviews of other Texas Weeks given, and mention was made of such prominent men as Doctor J. F. Kimball, Ex-Governor Pat M. Neff, Governor James V. Allred, Frank Watson, Peter Molyneaux, and Mrs. W. P. Zumwalt, all of whom have spoken during previous Texas Weeks.

Thus ended another Texas Week in Forest Avenue High School, where we are proud and happy to sing:

"Texas, our Texas, All hail the mighty state!
Texas, dear Texas, so wonderful, so great!"

JUNE, '38 CLASS PROPHECY

June 2, 1948
Futureland, U. S. A.

Dear Mother:

I arrived in Futureland safely after the exciting land-rush, and I'm just bubbling over with news. It certainly was a brilliant idea of our Secretary-of-State, Robert Hickman, to open the wonderful territory of Futureland free to United States citizens. I must say that Captain Wallace Thrower's discovery of this beautiful island by means of his new invention, the Atmospheric Phylosophede, was very fortunate indeed.

The most wonderful part of it all is that I know so many people here. It seems that a large number of the June '38 graduates of old Forest Avenue High School have gone in for the thrill of settling this new territory. It is interesting to watch the new stores and business enterprises opening.

Futureland promises to be Hollywood's great successor. A great studio has been opened, Metro-Silver Stag. It is owned by Steve Culibrk. The directors are Glenn Carpenter and Lawrence Wigbels, while chief among the cameramen is Irving Goidl. Their great scenario writers are Bernice Rubin and Joyce Karchmer. The chief romantic star shines forth under the name of Walter Moseley. The Beefstake Twins, Racheal Phillips and Lorraine Crow, dancers of swing, are very good indeed. The Tarzan roles are gallantly performed by Henry Stampley. Among other members who hold contracts, Julius Aronofsky is making Eddie Duchin sit up and take notice; Dixie Holtman and H. C. Balthrop are giving Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald of Hollywood some stiff competition; and Chocky Fair and Kitty Rolnick are making a new picture called "Dance Till Dawn." Boy, can those kids shuffle their feet! Some of the leading romantic teams are Bertrand Lee and Delma Stevenson, Elbert Runnels and Margaret Cherry. Stella Mae Coffman is chief among dress designers, and Weldon Sanders draws the famous cartoon, "Gussie Goose." Metro-Silver's song writers are Flora Purser and Bobbie Fern Hamlin. Harold Freedman makes all back-stage noises. Everyone in Futureland is very enthusiastic over the studio, for we know it will be a great success.

The funeral home here belongs to Peter Patton, but Doctor Horace Simmons and his nurse, Geraldine Coward, are rendering such marvelous care to the sick of Futureland that we can't see how Mr. Patton makes a living. It has been rumored that he is in the dog biscuit business on the side. He produces "Patton's Precious Pills for Puny Pups."

We held an election last week and elected Clarence Eaton, Mayor; Bill Holland, Chief of Police; Barnett Goodstein, District Attorney; Betty Wolfe, president of the Board of Education, and Stagg Renz, Fire Chief. James Shannon and Arnold Utay are judges. Frances Levine is head of the Department of Health, and Charles Jones is Big Chief Dog Catcher. Some of our most heroic policemen are H. A. Boyd and James Goff. J. L. Haney and Thomas Stockard slide down the pole every time they hear the fire alarm.

Marjorie Swain has announced the opening of her new modeling school. I hear that Angeline Fonberg, Thelma Glenn and Joy Jenkins are enrolling. Margaret Golden will teach a class in the art of choosing clothes. Lois Moore and Otha Mae Hendricks will help design the dresses for the models to wear.

Guess what! We have a race track here. It has been called the "Dickerson Downs," and Marion, the owner, is very proud of the immense track. Howard Wadsworth owns "Passemup," and Harvey Thomas owns the gallant nag "Gunit." They have hired Henry Hall and Albert Lynn to ride their horses to victory. Among the other steed-straddlers are L. A. Giggleman and Jack McMeans, who always hang around the race track.

We had a beauty contest here yesterday; the results are yet to be announced. The contestants were divided into blondes, brunettes and red heads. Among the blonde contestants were Doris Di Maio and Madelyn Bell. The brunettes turned out Maudine Catlett, Rosalie Fischl and Edna Ruth Epstein, while the red head contestants went under the names of Barbara Miller and Lenora Reeves.

A lovely little bakery shop has just opened around the corner. It is owned by Dorothy Bassett and Charles Pierce. Their delivery boy is J. D. Thomas, who ambles about on his beloved bicycle.

We have a thriving business here called the Escort Bureau owned by Karl Woelfley. He has hired Emanuel Paternostro, Roland Goss, Dewey Fisher, Herbert Frank and Buford Steer to make the girls' hearts flutter.

Alice Primrose is principal of the little red school house. Among those "apple takers" are Vera Belker, gym instructor; Ruth Cox, history instructor; Blanche Crook, art instructor. Marian Tobias teaches public speaking; Evelyn Frances, home economics; Annie Lou Odle, chemistry; Edith Fulgham, Spanish; Marie Toberny, biology; Ethel Mae Hall, algebra, and Dorothy Simon, typing.

Henry Griffis is manager of a few tough heavyweights. Henry is especially proud of his champion boxer, Curtis Slocum.

On every billboard in town there is a picture of a beautiful girl, oddly resembling Norma Gene Guynes, who advertises Pepsopanna tooth paste.

Alton Melton and Richard Taylor, those two wonderful chemists, have given us some marvelous scientific inventions. For instance, they have patented their rubber hammer—it keeps you from hurting your thumb when you hit it; a revolving goldfish bowl, which keeps the fish from swimming around and wearing themselves out, and some ink that leaves spaces when you write, so you won't have to pick up your pen.

Warren Sears manufactures soap boxes which usually find their way under those politicians, Wilbert Payne and Bennie Taylor.

Fred Byron, the millionaire, donated $25,000 to the city for a large library. Two very sweet librarians are Emma Jean Reynolds and Elsie May Thorn. I took some books out yesterday. One was called "The Theory of Evolution," by Jack Strange; among the others was a book of love lyrics by Eugene Anderson and a 2,000-page novel by Elsie Rose Israel.

The circus is coming to Futureland! All the billboards advertise Cleaburn Weathersby's great circus. Fred Evans is one of the best barkers. Henry McAdams bravely tames the lions. Wayne Martens is the fearless fire-eater. Harris McKnight is the tall man in the big tent. William McCullough is the rubber man. The Siamese twins are called Harold and Howard Walters. Some of the cute little midgets are Celia Kellner, Helen Levy and Pauline Wild. Edith Welch sells tickets to the side shows. Earline Lasseter is the charming lady on the white horse. Adolph Jez and Lazell Jarvis are the clowns.

John Crowder has a nifty little garage on Main Street, next door to which Harry Cobbel owns a theater. In Harry's theater the ushers are girls. They are Frances Bledsoe, Alice Burley, Eunice Cleveland, Frances Davis and Greta Pearl Harmon. In the vaudeville act Bernard Ely is a one-man band. Ruth Dunbar, Dorothy Fullington, Jane Kizer and Inez Sears form the girls' quartet.

The Futureland Daily News is edited by Harold Vann. Some of his gallivanting reporters are Suzie Manion, Thelma Frauman, Leta Fae Davis, Hattie Sorenson, Billie Louise Rogers, Earline Rope, and Leora Willis. Richard Bopp writes the weather reports, and Louise Erickson writes recipes. Marie Moody writes an article on "How To Be Beautiful." Evelyn Waller reviews the moving pictures. Josephine Jones writes instructions on how to make crazy quilts, and Helen Berman writes two-week serial stories.

We have a beautiful new bridge in Futureland that was built by W. D. Davis and Merwin Hoffman, who head a large engineering company.

Warren McSpadden is gradually growing wealthy from his profitable business of manufacturing McSpadden Spats. Pauline Boshart is his stenographer. Ted Wrights and Dave Tobolowsky are travelling spats salesmen. In Warren's large store on Main Street, Odelle Horton, Geneva Cooper, Daisy Weaver, Martha Paroski and Eldorado Wilson sell his special product.

Blanche Beauchamp has opened a business school. I hear that some of the instructors are Juanita Oliver, Bernice Hoyle, Bobbie Clearman, Grace Nall and Wava Paulson.

The Sarah Harris beauty preparations are being displayed in Margaret Duck's beauty salon. The beauty demonstrators, Eva Williams, Salba Fain and Margaret Vanlandingham, recommend the preparations, and Edith Marcelle, Mildred Owens and Dorothy Poirer travel on the road with their brief cases full of the Harris Cosmetics.

I heard that Jack Long, the Fuller brush man, really got the air when he stopped at the door of housewife Mildred McKinney.

Florence Sallee, who has a flower nursery, grows the plants sold in all floral shops in Futureland. Etheleen Taylor owns one, and Theresa Wright makes bouquets.

Eula Mae Meador, who is now teaching elocution, has Margaret Sanford as her stenographer.

The Futureland Women's Club, with Jeanne Leaming as its president, is doing some marvelous work here. Margaret Hicks, Harriet Tobolowsky, Ethel Nusbaum and Margaret Ann Curtis are some of the members. At one of their recent meetings Myrtle Belle Solano played the piano, Opal Phillips gave some readings, and Esther Stein sang a few songs.

Well, mother, I guess I'd better close now. I'm sorry I wrote such a long letter, but I knew you would be interested in the successful outcome of all my classmates.

Love and kisses,

HELEN LEHWALD.

JANUARY, '39 CLASS PROPHECY

TIME: Spring of 1950.

PLACE: Paris, France.

CHARACTERS: Two excited young ladies, Laurette and Florine.

Flourine and Laurette, Americans, have been in Paris for a whole day and are relating to each other all the familiar sights and people that they have seen.

SCENE I

LAURETTE (excitedly): Oh, Florine, you really don't know what you missed by not going with me yesterday. I had the most glorious time. I saw so many people that I know.

FLORINE: Me, too! I saw—but you must have something especially nice to tell me, so—

LAURETTE: My guide told me that a large fashion show was to be held at the "Paris-york," a new fashion center. Well, you know how I am. I trucked it on over there, and you just can't imagine who operates the place.

FLORINE: Who?

LAURETTE: Madame Renel, who is really Mollie Grace Heine! She has a swanky place and a flock of exclusive people working for her. First, she gave a program and presented dances by Retha Fisher, piano solos by Louise Alexander, and songs by our jovial successor to Kate Smith, Myrtle Husbands. Then she introduced her assistants, who I found to be Mary Virginia Canaday and Lorraine Wertz, designers; Bertie Fae Rawlins, interior decorator, and Madeline Burnett, personal director.

Her feature on the program was the appearance of the most photographed model in the world, Sara Jim Hilley, who came from New York to display the exclusive styles.

Included in the fashion shop is a beauty salon under the personal supervision of the great coiffure expert, Monsieur Fenior, or the former David Goodman. Under my very eyes Maxine Polakoff, who married a rich count, was given a thorough going over by Fenior and his assistant, Ruth Ballard. Also at the style show were Irene Grisom, the world's fastest typist, and Ward Tucker, a French professor in the University of Paris.

Now, Florine, can you top that for seeing old friends?

FLORINE: It's really a pity that you don't like sports, because I went to the Olympics, and I saw just as many people as you did.

Irene Perkins won the honors for swimming; Tommy Davis, for broad-jumping and hurdle running. Bertha Duckworth, who teaches English by radio to French and Italian children, sat next to me.

While the judges were announcing the winners, I was nonchalantly eating peanuts, when I suddenly discovered that the peanut vendor was none other than Claude Wilson. Still possessing a gift of gab, Claude joined me, and I learned that Jack Taylor is teaching Latin and physics in Columbia University; that Pete Lazaros is hunting wild game in Africa; that Carl Weil and Eugene Cade have gone in partnership and are dealing exclusively in the finest junk; and that La Nora Smith and Jane Russel are news commentators.

Here in a sudden burst of confidence, he was interrupted by Edward Summerfield, our Ambassador of Goodwill to France, who introduced a well-known coach, David Weber, and his assistant, Norman De Laughter. Jack Michaelson spoke to me then, and I forgot Claude and Edward, for Jack is now a millionaire play-boy—but I was nearly knocked off my props when I found out that his wife Bernice Cohen, is travelling with him! Jack told me—

LAURETTE: That all sounds like fiction. Are you sure you—

FLORINE: Don't interrupt! Jack told me that Dave Butcher is now commander of our naval base in China, and Dallas Patrick is commander of our troops in the Far East. Isn't that grand?

LAURETTE: Heavenly days! After all that talking, the Olympics ought to have adjourned for the day.

FLORINE: Oh, they did, and Jack, his wife, and I ankled over to a most modern cafe-theater for lunch. It is owned by Jeanette King and Lois Corbett. Directly across the street is the laboratory where Celia Anne Brilling, technician, and Mattie Lee Mueller, her assistant, have found a diet to turn straight hair curly.

After lunch we ambled to the library which is operated by Gloria Aitken, Florence Lester and Mary Ann Rips. On the way, we passed Lewis Duca searching frantically in the crowd for his little Pekinese that had just escaped his clutches.

LAURETTE: Now, I want to talk!

After I got one of Roberta Brown's now world famous five-dollar special facials, I ran upon William Beville, a research expert, and Opal Barrow, his nurse, who took me to the airport. Here we saw the "Transatlantic Fly," owned by Eugene Spangler, which is to fly to America soon. Its pilot is Granville Williams, and its petite hostess, Virgina McKinney. The plane had just arrived from London, and we found that among its many passengers were Arthur Tillory and W. A. Moore, talent scouts for M. G. M.; Ismael Cawthorn, producer of the great opera, "Faust;" Jimmy Martin, heavyweight boxer, and his manager, Robert McWilliams. When we hailed Robert and asked him for news, he said that Billy Counts was just elected mayor of New York, and that his secretary is Sarah Ligenburg. His bodyguard is Pat Garrison. Robert also told us that Mary Katherine Jordan is now a famous scientist, and that Rose Feldman and Elizabeth Bock now own a pet shop. And—but oooh, guess where I'm going tonight!

FLORINE: I don't have the least idea, but Jack and Bernice asked me to go with them to the opening of the Jingle Inn tonight.

LAURETTE (fondly): Really? You copy-cat! That's where I'm going! Only I'm going with William, Opal, and Louis Leon; they may not be millionaries, but they're O. K. for me.

By the way, have you heard anything about the Jingle Inn?

FLORINE: Uh-uh, only that it's opening.

LAURETTE: Well, it is owned by Delma Stevenson. Featured on the opening program will be Elton Shackman and his super-collosal swing band, Olene Bigham and John Cook, dance team, and Thomas Rogers and Beverly Jo Fain, singers. Gee, I hope you like it—I know I will, and I hope we see more of our friends. (Leaving) Ooh, Florine, what are you going to wear tonight?—

THE SNOW

The snow is falling;
And Anna hugs her fireplace
And says,
"What awful weather!
What terrible cold!"
She does not see the whiteness of it,
The softness of it:
She sees only the bare earth
And the skeleton trees;
She feels the biting of its coldness
And says,
"What terrible weather!
I wish it were spring again,
And the white roses were in bloom
And everything were beautiful!"

The snow is falling;
And Mary laughs as she feels
The cold flakes on her cheek;
She sees the beauty of it,
And thinks
It is like the soft white down
On the breast of another dove.
She says,
"God must have gathered
The velvet petals of the white rose
That blooms in the spring;
He is sprinkling them over the cold, bare
earth
To remind us
That there is beauty in all things
At all times."
She sees Anne
Hugging her fireplace,
Wishing for spring,
Hating the snow,
And says,
"Let the snow fall,
But my spirits rise;
Let the snow cover the earth,
But not my soul."
